

RUMANIA EXPECTED WORK OF CLEANING TO JOIN ALLEES AS UP GOES ON ALL DAY RESULT ITALY'S ACT SUNDAY ON ISLAND

RELATIONS BETWEEN TWO GOVERNMENTS HAVE BEEN COR-DIAL FOR YEARS AND THREAE-NING ATTITUDE OF GERMANY MAY CAUSE FINAL DECISION.

SERBIA'S REPLY IS AWAITED

What Will Be Done About Sug-gestions of the Entente Ministers on Ceding of Macedonia Is Still to Be Settled—Balkan States Now Center of International Interest.

London, Aug. 22, 10:25 p. m.—Italy's declaration of war against Turkey is expected to have an almost immediate effect on the Balkan states which still are debating which side they will take in the conflict.

The relations between Italy and Rumania for years have been very intimate and the opinion is expressed here that it is probable, especially in view of the threatening attitude of the Germanic powers toward Rumania because of her refusal to allow am-munition to pass through her terri-tory, that no Italy has broken rela-tions with Turkey, Rumania will join the quadruple entente.

Bulgaria is still waiting for the re-ply of Serbia to the suggestions of the entente ministers that Serbia cede Macedonia to Bulgaria, while Greece is likely to declare her future policy when the chamber meets this week. The opinion is expressed in diplo-matic circles that it is significant that M. Venizelos, who always has been friendly to the entente, has decided to take charge, in addition to the Greek premier, of the office of the minister of foreign affairs.

With the inclusion of Italy among Turkey's opponents in the war and the former well known desire for ex-pansion in the Balkans, the Balkan states may consider that the time is ripe for them to enter the field and obtain for themselves any share of what falls to the victorious group. It is for them to decide which side is likely to win.

The continued retirement of the Russian armies seems to have little, if any, influence on the situation. The opinion is expressed here that a vic-tory of the Dardanelles would more than offset this so far as the near east is concerned, and the Franco-British forces are increasing their ef-forts to force the straits.

There is little change in Poland and the Baltic provinces. A big battle is being fought along the Kovno-Vilna railway and the river Niemen. This, however, is of secondary importance to the movement against Brest-Litovsk. The Austro-German forces are across the rivers and roads both north and south of this fortress, which is invested from three sides and cu-riosity is evinced as to whether Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian forces, intends to defend it or to fall back further. For the mo-ment he is resisting the Austro-Ger-man advance but this may be only with rear guards which have been de-tailed to inflict as much loss as pos-sible on the invaders and delay the progress of the Teutons.

Livelihood has prevailed at some points along the western front, but the engagements have been of minor importance. The German forces have repulsed a German attack in Artois and in the Vosges, while both sides are expending ammunition in artillery engagements, bomb throwing and other artifices in many places to annoy their opponents.

The Italians report slight progress on all their fronts.

Berlin, Aug. 22.—(By Wireless to London, 3:55 p. m.)—The army of General von Eichhorn has made fur-ther progress east and south of Kovno while that of General von Gallwitz is

CITY OF GALVESTON IS STILL WITHOUT WATER AND LIGHTS, BUT THINGS ARE RAPIDLY BE-ING RIGHTED—MAINS ACROSS BAY BEING CONNECTED.

One More Body Found on Island and Reports From Bolivar Peninsula That 38 Are Known to Have Been Drowned Increases the Total Num-ber of the Lost.

Galveston, Aug. 22.—Although still without water and the electrical power which is dependent upon it, Galveston today made further strides toward the recovery of its equilibrium. Sunday was observed at all churches and no business was transacted by merchants but work of cleaning up was carried forward without a halt.

Engineers reported that divers to-day discovered that 96 feet of the submerged water main across the bay to be missing in one section, proba-bly the result of a barge having been blown across it during the storm.

So far there has been no suffering for water in the city but the incon-venience is great. The gulf is calm and blue again, however, and was dotted with bathers this afternoon.

The finding of one more body on the beach of Galveston Island and re-ports received from Bolivar peninsula that 38 are known to be dead in that section with four missing, are the latest additions to the casualty list in this vicinity. The identified dead at High Island on Bolivar peninsula are as follows:

U. Jackson, Beaumont.
Donnie Roberts, Beaumont.
Elam Albritton.
Jessie Albritton.
Elma Albritton.
Frank Kirkland.
Miss Mary Baker.
Others are unidentified.

Of the eight coast guard men at the San Luis Pass station, four are known to have been saved, the dead body of Surtruman Jerome C. Maddox has been recovered and the remaining three are believed to have been lost in the hur-ricane of last Monday and Tuesday.

Of six other persons who were at the station only one, George W. Kelly of Galveston, is known to have come alive.

Captain Charles H. Corbel, in charge of the San Luis station, relates his experiences in these words:

"Owing to the rough weather and the warnings we had received we quitted the station house and took our boat at 9 o'clock Monday morn-ing. It is our practice to do this whenever storms of unusual intensity are expected.

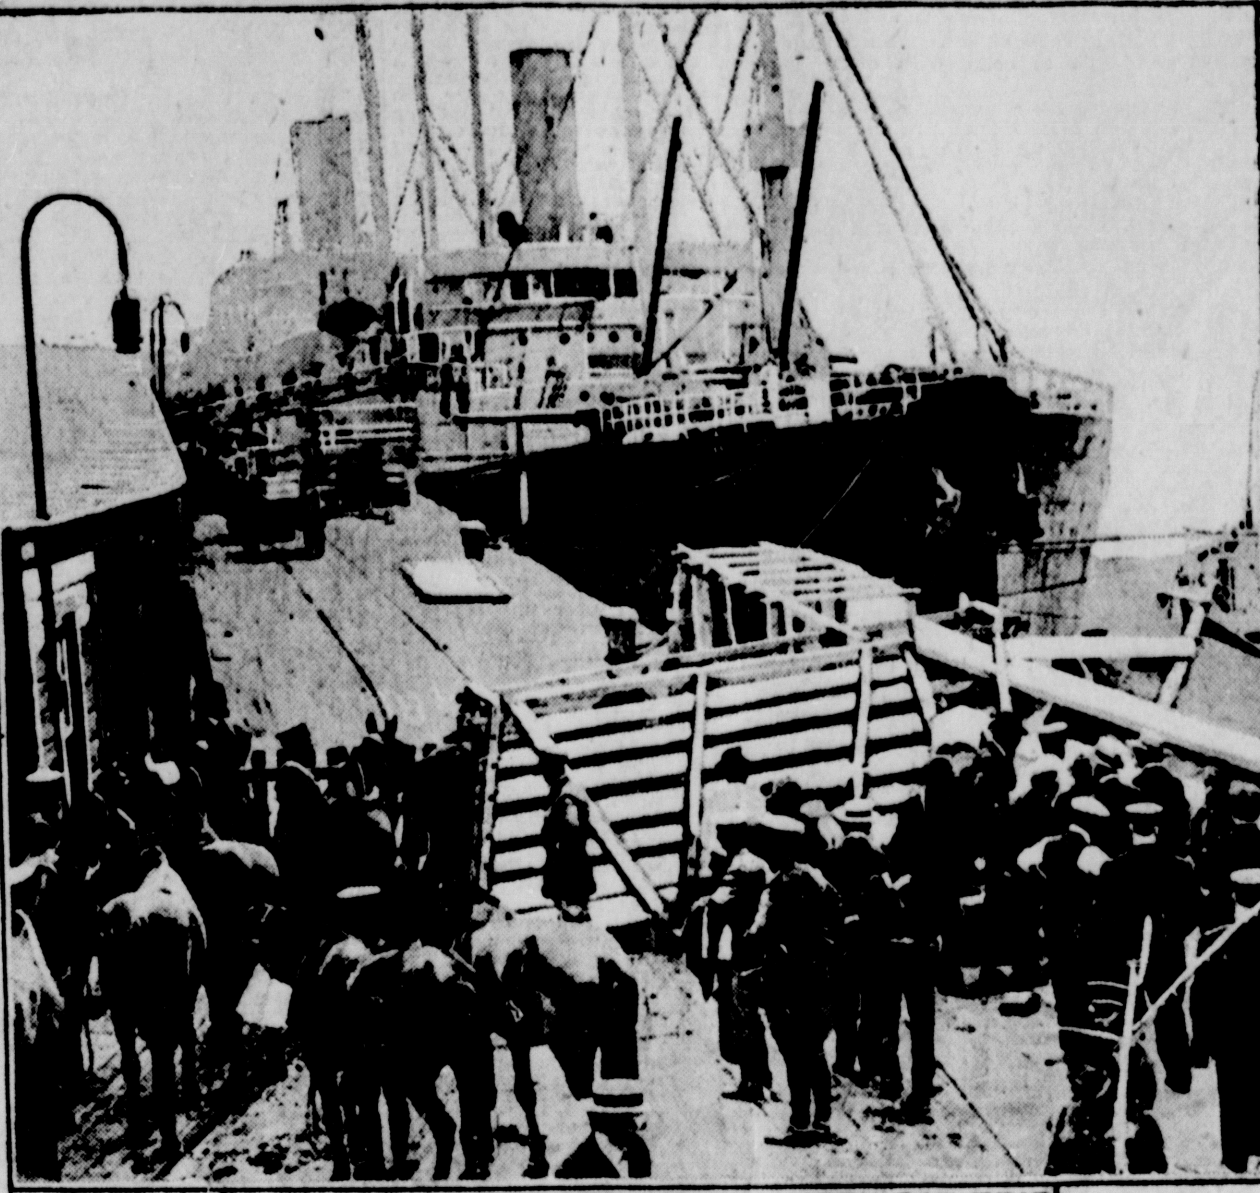

"Our boat was a patent self-bailer. We fastened one end of it to the sta-tion house, the other end we tied to a big salt cedar tree and we cast out a 65-pound anchor. Into this boat besides the crew we took the wives of two of our surfmen, Mrs. Wm. A. Krauss and Mrs. Edward Boetger, and a young child of the Boetgers about one year old; also George W. Kelly, a bar pilot from Galveston; Richard Hanson, who was keeper of the station house; and a negro cook who worked for Captain Kelly.

"We all remained in the boat until 8 o'clock Monday night, when the heavy wind and strong cross cur-rents of the sea tossed it on to its side and every one of us was washed or thrown into the water. The vio-lence of the wind and waves made it impossible for anyone to regain the boat.

"We were all equipped with life preservers.

"I heard Mrs. Krauss cry out 'Save me' as we went into the sea. I heard

English Troopship Torpedoed—Lost with About 1,000 Soldiers

ROYAL EDWARD LOADING FOR HER LAST TRIP

The British transport Royal Edward has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine. Announcement to this effect has been made officially. Six hundred men were saved out of 1,550 troops and 220 other persons aboard. The sinking of the Royal Edward has shattered the tradition of the British navy of having transported hundreds of thousands of men across the seas without the destruction of a troop laden ship. On two previous occasions trans-ports have been attacked. The Wayfarer was torpedoed by a submarine in the Irish sea, but the vessel was not sunk and only five lives were lost. The Manito was attacked by a Turkish torpedo boat in the Aegean, and although the ship was not damaged, 54 lives were lost through the breaking of a davit as a boat was being lowered. The loss of the Royal Edward is a serious one at this moment. The men it carried were not part of a new expedition, but were reinforcements for the Twenty-ninth division, which has been on the Gallipoli peninsula since the first landing and which received such high praise from General Ian Hamilton in his report on the initial and subsequent operations. The Royal Edward was 11,117 tons gross and 526 feet long. She was owned by the Canadian Northern Steamship company of Toronto. She was built in Glasgow in 1908.

MANY ARE DROWNED IN MERAMEC FLOOD VICINITY OF ST. LOUIS

STREAM, LINED ON EITHER SIDE BY THOUSANDS OF PLEASURE RESORTS, GOES OUT OF BANKS AND BRINGS DEATH AND DE-STRUCTION—STILL RISING.

St. Louis, Aug. 22.—The Meramec river, lined on either side with thou-sands of pleasure resorts, club houses and summer cottages, went several miles out of its banks today, swept away most of these buildings and in-creasing to twenty, it is reported, the number of lives lost in St. Paul county as a result of the flood which fol-lowed the recent rainstorm here.

The Meramec began rising at the rate of a foot an hour early this morn-ing and tonight still was going up. Hundreds of persons had been marooned in club houses and cottages along the river by the first rise sev-eral days ago following a forty hour rainfall and hundreds of others had gone to the river today hoping that it would recede and permit them to rescue relatives, friends and their wa-ter-soaked possessions.

Six persons were said to have been drowned at Valley Park and two at Meramec highland today, but details were not available early tonight. Many other persons were missing and the fear was expressed by county officials that the death list might aggregate several score persons. At 5 o'clock tonight it was reported the Meramec river was five feet higher than ever before in its history. The water rose so rapidly that hundreds of persons had time only to climb to tree tops. Efforts to rescue these even with the aid of high powered motor boats were unavailing in many cases. Boats are being rushed to the Meramec by train. Strong motor boats attempted to en-ter the Meramec from the Mississippi river, into which the smaller river empties, but they were blocked by the high waters which prevented their progress under the few remaining bridges across the Meramec.

Unconfirmed reports said that every building on either side of the river from Clinton to Pacific, a distance of 35 miles, had been carried away by the flood. In Valley Park alone 2,000 families have been made home-less. The water in this city was ten to twelve feet high in the streets. The flooded area is estimated at 100 square miles. Telephone and telegraph wires to almost all towns in the district are down.

The worst conditions prevail at the mouth of the Meramec, where it is feared the loss of life will be heavy. Thousands of refugees from the flood-ed district are being housed in churches and hotels and other public buildings nearby. Cots and foods are being sent to the scene from St. Louis.

Attack on Watchman.

Dallas, Aug. 22.—A mysterious attack was made on McKinley Cunningham, a night watchman, last night about 11:30 o'clock when a pistol bullet, fired from a passing automobile, entered the left thigh just below the abdomen. Cunn-ingham was rounding the corner of Dove and Commerce streets when the shot was fired by some one in an automobile which was passing along Commerce street.

CARRANZA LEADERS ALL DECLARE THEIR LOYALTY TO CHIEF

INDICATIONS ARE THAT FEW OF CONSTITUTIONALIST HEADS WILL JOIN IN THE PROPOSED CONFERENCE WITH OBJECT OF PEACE IN MEXICO.

Washington, Aug. 22.—While the Pan-American conference awaited fur-ther replies to peace appeal to Mex-ican leaders the stage apparently is be-ing set for a decisive battle between Carranza and Villa forces in Central Mexico.

General Villa's agency here an-nounced tonight that the "flying col-umn" recently operating in the south had reached Torreon to reinforce the army there opposing the northward march of Carranza forces under Obre-gon. With the "flying column" were Generals Florio, Canuto Reyes, Ban-deros and Garza. Other Villa dis-patches said Raul Madero had begun an attack on Monterrey.

The Carranza agency issued the fol-lowing statement: "Further declarations of adherence to the constitutional government of Mexico were forwarded to the state department and the South and Central American plenipotentiaries from mil-itary chieftains of the constitutional army today. The first was from Gen-eral Salvador Alvarado, governor of Yucatan and commander of the army corps of the southwest. It was directed to the American consul at Merida for transmission to Washington and read as follows:

"I am in receipt of your courteous note in which you transmit to me the one addressed to you by the secretary of state and of the United States and the plenipotentiaries of Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Uruguay, Bolivia and Guatemala, and in reply I beg to say that the aforesaid note should be transmitted to Mr. Venustiano Car-ranza, first chief of the constitutional army and depository of the ex-ecutive powers of Mexico, whose de-cision will be supported by the Mex-ican people and the constitutional army."

"The second acknowledgment was delivered to the American consul at Aguas Calientes and was signed by General Martin Triana, governor and military commander of Aguas Calientes. Following is its text: "I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the note transmitted through you to me by the secretary of state of the United States and the plenipotentiaries of Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Bolivia, Uruguay and Guate-mala, and in reply I beg to say that I am positively grateful for the spirit which animates the above mentioned gentlemen regarding the restoration of peace and constitutional order in Mex-ico but at the same time I cannot answer the note in question because it deals with matters of the executive province of Mr. Venustiano Carranza, first chief of the constitutional army and depository of the executive power of the nation, to whom I have referred the matter by telegraph for action as may be proper."

"The agency was advised by cable this morning that Roque Estrada took the office of minister of justice in the cabinet of Carranza at noon Sat-urday."

DETAILS OF THE "EXECUTION" OF LEO M. FRANK ARE TOLD

From Time of Being Taken From the Prison, the Wild Night Ride Beside Grim Visaged Men Who "Carry Out Sentence" to the Actual Hanging, Graphically Recounted.

SAID "I LOVE MY WIFE AND MOTHER"

Not Once Did the Man Who Knew He Was Going to His Death Flinch—But Twice Did He Reply to Questions Put to Him With the Word "No"—No Confession Was Made.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 22.—The first actual story of what transpired on the death ride of Leo M. Frank from Milledgeville to Marietta between midnight and dawn last Tuesday morning became available to the Associated Press today. The recital did not come through second or third hands, but in a manner which seemingly placed its authenticity beyond all question. The narrator, however, will not be a witness before the Cobb county grand jury which on September 1 will be asked to undertake a thorough investigation of the lynching of the man alleged to have been the slayer of little Mary Phagan.

It also became known today that Governor Nat Harris during the first few days had received several anonymous threatening letters, purporting to warn him not to go "too far" in his investigation of the lynching. The governor is not inclined to take the letters at all seriously but looks upon them as the out-growth of the disturbed sentiments of the moment.

The "inside story" of the events which preceded the finding of Frank's lifeless body awaying from the limb of the biggest oak tree in the vicinity of "Bill" Frey's gin cleared up many phases of the tragic incident which hereto-fore have been veiled in mystery.

First—Frank did not confess. He twice was asked if he had anything to say, but on each occasion replied "no." Asked pointedly if he killed the Phagan girl, he is said to have made no reply whatever.

Second—No attempt was made to force a confession. Frank's statement just prior to his death that he loved his wife and mother better than he did his life came unexpectedly and without questioning.

Third—Frank was not maltreated in any way prior to the actual lynching. Stories that he may have met violent death before being hanged are without foundation.

Fourth—Frank walked a distance of 200 yards from the automobile to the death tree without a faltering step; without a sigh or semblance of protest. Fearing that perhaps his body might never reach his relatives, he asked that the wedding ring he wore be delivered to a newspaper with the solemn promise that it would be turned over to his wife. This wish was carried out.

Told Was to be Executed.

Fifth—Frank was told from the start that he was to be "executed" as the courts had directed that he be, and every effort was made by the so-called "vigilance committee" to see that the "legal hanging," as they termed the lynching, was carried out in an orderly manner. Members of the "vigilance committee" are said to resent any intimation that Frank was "maltreated" while in their custody. They assert he was given exactly the same considera-tion usually given a condemned man on the day of his execution. The rough handling of the body after it was cut down was a matter concerning which members of the "committee" feel they were not responsible.

Sixth—The members of the "vigilance committee" felt they had a "sacred duty" to perform in "carrying out the mandate of the courts of the state and of the United States." There was no mob spirit, no demonstration and there is said to have been no idea of hanging Frank in the public square at Marietta or in the cemetery where Mary Phagan lies buried. There was, however, a determination that the "execution" should take place in Cobb county. Inas-much as all the members of the "committee" are said to be residents of Cobb county, the reason for this is obvious.

Seventh—Automobiles were equipped to transport the "committee" from Marietta to Milledgeville. Only four returned, including the car in which Frank rode. All of the machines were small cars of a popular make. These cars were specially selected because of the difficulty in identifying them. No car of conspicuous color or design was wanted. There were probably 25 men in the lynching party.

The machines left Marietta singly during the afternoon of Monday last and it was shortly after 10 o'clock when the prison farm was reached.

After Warden Smith and Superintendent Burke had been called from their homes and handcuffed the party pro-ceeded to the prison house in which Frank was known to be quartered.

Frank was just recovering from the wound inflicted on his throat by Wil-liam Green, a fellow prisoner, and was to have returned to the regular sleep-ing dormitory on Tuesday night. On the night of his death, however, he was still living in the hospital room adjoining the warden's office.

When the lynching party had en-tered the prison and its members were disarming the outer guards one of the "trusties" at the prison who also was on guard duty quickly blew out an oil lamp burning just outside Frank's door. He also extinguished the dim light burning in the hospital room.

Makes Guard Light Lamp.

A member of the invading party was quick to see this. He hailed the "trusty."

"Come here with a match," he com-manded.

"I haven't got one," replied the con-vict.

"Well, you had better get one damn-ed quick."

The guard saw the gleam of a re-volver and lost no time in complying. So far as known this was the only semblance of an oath used in Frank's presence. This was in keeping with the determination of the members of the "vigilance committee" to give to their acts a consistent atmosphere of officiality.

Four men entered Frank's room. The noise at the outer door already had awakened the prisoner but he was

Italy Gives Reasons for Declaring War on Turkey

Paris, Aug. 22.—Further details con-cerning the circular message which has been sent by the Italian govern-ment to all its representatives abroad setting forth the difficulties between Italy and Turkey leading up to Italy's declaration of war on the Ottoman government, are contained in a dis-patch sent from Rome by the corre-spondent of the Havas Agency. The Havas telegram follows:

"Regarding flagrant violations of the rights, interests and even lib-erties of Italian citizens in the Ot-toman empire, without the most en-ergetic protestations on this subject, presented at the Ottoman govern-ment at Constantinople, having any value, the circular says that on the third of August, Marquis Di Garroni (Italian ambassador to Turkey) presented an ultimatum comprising four demands: 1. That Italians be permitted free-ly to leave Beirut (Syria); 2. That Italians in Smyrna, in view of the im-practicability of the port of Vourla, be authorized to depart by way of Sighajik; 3. That the Ottoman gov-ernment permit the free embarkation of Italians at Mersina, Alexandretta, Haifa and Jaffa; 4. That the local au-thorities in the interior renounce their opposition to the departure of Ital-ians to the coast and to facilitate their journey. SUMMARY OF WAR

The naval battle in which German and Russian warships have been en-gaged for several days in the Gulf of Riga has resulted in the German fleet withdrawing after having lost the battle cruiser Moltke, a warship of the dreadnaught type, three ar-mored cruisers and seven torpedo boats, according to a statement credited to the president of the Russian duma.

This is the latest information con-cerning the German naval attack, which was undertaken as a measure of co-operation with the Russian operations in Courland and especially against the important port of Riga. The significance of the German with-drawal is not brought out in the Pe-trograd dispatch and no mention is made in it of any Russian losses. A German report of Saturday announced that the Russians had lost three small warships—two gunboats and a torpedo boat.

The Moltke was one of the larger vessels of the German navy, carrying a complement of 1,107 men in times of peace. The types of the other cruisers which are said to have been sent to the bottom are not mentioned. Emperor William of Germany with several of his generals has entered the captured fortress of Novogeorgievsk, the last Russian stronghold in Poland to stand out against the German ad-vance. The emperor reviewed the troops and expressed his thanks to them for their accomplishment.

No vital change is recorded in the fighting in Poland and the Baltic provinces. A desperate battle is being fought along the Kovno-Vilna railway and the Niemen river. Berlin reports that the army of General von Eich-horn has made further progress east and south of Kovno, while the forces of General von Gallwitz have pene-trated further south of the Narva and the Bielyostok-Brest-Litovsk railway. An official dis-patch from Petrograd, however, says that the whole line of this railway remains in the hands of the Russians though Brest-Litovsk is almost within the zone of gunfire.

In the western theatre the fighting has consisted mainly of artillery duels on various sectors and no important operations in the line have resulted any-where.

On the Austro-Italian front there have been artillery bombardments and infantry attacks at various points in which the Italians claim advances for their troops at several points, notably in the upper Boite region, where sev-eral Austrian trenches are declared to have been taken.

Petrograd records for the Russians an advance on the river Arkhava, Asiatic Turkey, and the repulse of a Turkish attack near Olti. In addition the Russian Black Sea fleet destroyers have sunk over one hundred Turkish boats, probably all of them cargo ves-sels.

Nothing has come through with re-gard to the fighting on the Gallipoli peninsula.

On the political side of the war, M. Venizelos has accepted the post of prime minister of Greece and in ad-dition will hold the portfolio of min-ister of foreign affairs. It is expected in Europe that with the resumption of power of Venizelos the uncertain Balkan situation will begin to clarify itself. M. Venizelos and King Con-stantine are declared to have reached a perfect understanding.

NO ACTION YET IN THE ARABIC MATTER

JUDGMENT STILL SUSPENDED UNTIL FURTHER INFORMATION IS HAD.

WILSON AND LANSING SILENT

Cabled Statements of Survivors All Point to Fact That No Warning Was Given.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Judgment still is suspended by the United States government on the torpedoing of the liner Arabic with a loss of two American lives.

Until official information on which to base the course to be pursued arrives, there will be no statement of the government's position and high officials will not discuss the subject. Both President Wilson and Secretary Lansing were silent today, the latter dismissing interviewers with a negative answer when asked whether any additional reports had been received from Ambassador Page.

It was understood tonight that the all-important report awaited before the United States determines whether Germany has committed a "deliberately unfriendly act" is expected from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin. Cabled statements of American survivors apparently have left no doubt that the Arabic with Americans on board was torpedoed without warning. The question now is whether Germany will set up a claim that maneuvering of the ship just before she was attacked led to the submarine commander to believe that she was attempting a hostile act against him.

In addition to such brief information as he has cabled, Ambassador Page is said to have mailed a long report including affidavits of the American survivors.

The president will decide tomorrow whether a cabinet meeting will be called for Tuesday, but tonight it seemed improbable that the cabinet members would be summoned before final reports on the Arabic disaster were received.

Steamer Lapland Arrives.
New York, Aug. 22.—The White Star Line announced here today that the steamer Lapland had arrived at Liverpool at 9 a. m. today. This announcement dispelled fears in shipping circles that the ship had met with mishap while passing through the war zone.

Submarine Awaited Arabic.
Liverpool, Aug. 22, 15 p. m.—According to survivors of the steamer Dunsley, torpedoed by a German submarine just before the White Star Line Arabic was sunk, the underwater craft had been waiting for the larger vessel. The survivors declare they had been ordered off their ship and were in life boats when the submarine came and concealed herself from the approaching Arabic.

It is stated that when the liner came close enough to make an attack possible the submarine submerged, went around the bow of the Dunsley, and launched the fatal torpedo. They say that the German boat which came along alongside the Dunsley bore no number.

No previous definite statement as to the fate of the Dunsley has come through from London. It was announced that she had been torpedoed but it had not been known whether she succeeded in reaching port with her passengers.

Neches River is Higher Than in 1886
Beaumont, Aug. 22.—The Neches river has already passed the high water mark of 1886 and is still rising. At 6 o'clock the gauge showed it 12 feet and 8 inches above normal and rising at the rate of about an inch an hour. It has spread over the swamps of Orange county and in many places has connected with the Sabine above the confluence of the two rivers. Beaumont is not threatened.

Negro Trooper Stabbed.
Douglas, Ariz., Aug. 22.—Private Peters of Troop C (Negro), Ninth United States cavalry, was stabbed several times and probably fatally wounded by nine Mexicans today. The assault occurred three miles east of here.

MISCHIEF MAKER
New Strong and Robust.

An adult's food that can save a baby proves itself to be nourishing and easily digested and good for big and little folks. A Brooklyn man says:

"When our baby was about eleven months old he began to grow thin and pale. This was attributed to the heat and the fact that his teeth were coming, but, in reality, the poor little thing was starving. His mother's milk not being sufficient nourishment."

"One day after he had cried bitterly for an hour, I suggested that my wife try him on Grape-Nuts. She soaked two teaspoonfuls in half a cup of warm water for 5 or 6 minutes. Then she poured off the liquid and to it added a like amount of rich milk and a little sugar. This baby ate ravenously."

"It was not many days before he forgot all about being nursed, and has since lived almost exclusively on Grape-Nuts. Today the boy is strong and robust and as cute a mischief-maker as a thirteen-months-old baby is expected to be."

"Use this letter any way you wish for my wife and I can never praise Grape-Nuts enough after the brightness it has brought to our household."

Grape-Nuts is not made for a baby food, but experience with thousands of babies shows it to be among the best, if not entirely the best in use. Being a scientific preparation of Nature's grains, it is equally as effective as a body and brain builder for grown-ups. "There's a Reason."

still lying in bed when his room was entered by the self-appointed executioners who were hats pulled down to meet the automobile roadies which served the purpose of masks.

"We want you to come with us," Frank was told.

"There was neither surprise nor terror in the look he turned upon the four determined men. In silence Frank arose and made it to dress himself. He still was feeble from the loss of blood suffered in the Green attack and swayed a little dizzily."

"Don't bother with the clothes; come just as you are," he was commanded.

Unresistingly and without appeal of any sort for protection, Frank permitted himself to be handcuffed. Clad only in a sleeping garment he walked into the prison corridor, a member of the "vigilance committee" on either side of him and two bringing up the rear. The night was one of the warmest of the summer.

When the party had reached the prison porch the leaders thought the progress had been made and they turned back. Then Frank was picked up and carried down the concrete steps of the prison house. It is strenuously denied that Frank was "dragged" down the steps and it is also denied that one member of the party helped carry him by the hair.

It is pointed out that when Frank's body was cut down the only mark on it was a slight abrasion of the right arm above the elbow. The man said, was caused either by striking the arm against the narrow door of the automobile as he was being taken into the car or by the narrow door of the automobile as he was being taken into the car.

The ghostly scarred wound in Frank's throat was not opened until the weight of his body had been thrown against the exterior door of the prison house. The right point of the chin.

Knew He Was to Be Killed.
There apparently was no doubt in Frank's mind as to the meaning of his abduction as he was lifted into one of the machines waiting outside the prison farm. He had been fully aware of the threats that had been made against him and of the holding in readiness of the militia several weeks ago when there is every reason to believe that the so-called "execution" first was planned.

Two men climbed into the back seat of the car in which Frank sat. One of them, sitting on either side of him, was a member of the "committee." Seated beside the chauffeur. There were four men in the car. One of them, seated beside the chauffeur, was a member of the "committee." Seated beside the chauffeur. There were four men in the car. One of them, seated beside the chauffeur, was a member of the "committee." Seated beside the chauffeur.

For seven long moments Frank sat in the automobile which was carrying him to a death place of which he had no knowledge. It required this length of time to make the journey from Milledgeville to Marietta. The roads were often rough and bumpy but the party maintained a steady pace. There was but one delay—a puncture which was quickly mended.

Frank's hatless, white clad figure, erect in the tonneau of the leading car was in striking contrast to the somber hued men behind him. The glare of the headlights of the cars following kept

Believed Germany Has Received No Cotton Since May 1

London, Aug. 22.—In connection with the declaration of cotton as contraband of war the foreign office today issued a statement which purports to show that the imports into Holland and Scandinavia of cotton and cotton waste during the months of May, June and July totalled 17,344 tons, as compared with a normal average of 35,262 tons. Of the latter, however, it was stated that all but 16,557 tons were re-exported.

"These figures show," the statement continued, "that during those months imports of cotton have not been substantially greater than in times of peace and it is a fair deduction from this that apart from any other means of transport, Germany has not since May 1 received any considerable supply of cotton through those countries."

"It is not anticipated that owing to the declaration of cotton as contraband there will be any great difference in the transportation of cotton into the countries concerned and there is no reason to suppose that the American cotton exports to Germany will be in the future be in a less advantageous position than they have been in the last three months."

Demand Information on Mexican Status
Rio Janeiro, Aug. 22.—Demands for information as to the Mexican situation have been made in the chamber today, together with protests against the silence of the government.

Celso Bayma, president of the diplomatic commission, defended the ministry, denying that Brazil had intervened in the internal affairs of Mexico. He explained that Brazil had interested itself simply in the fate of Mexico and was conversing with the United States and other countries in regard to the matter.

He pleaded the legitimacy of intervention by the United States and the "A. B. C." powers in order to harmonize the Mexican situation. He explained the motive of the withdrawal of the Minister Carlos minister to Mexico, saying that the minister was not properly and particularly were non-political.

The opposition deputies finally desisted in the reiteration of their demands for information and expressed the hope that Dr. Laurito Merlo, minister of foreign affairs, would transmit it shortly to the chamber.

Communication With Mexico City.
Laredo, Aug. 22.—Telegraph and railway communication between Laredo and Mexico City has been opened from the border here to Mexico City, according to statements of Carranza officials in Nuevo Laredo today. The route is via Tampico and San Luis Potosi, the direct line to Mexico City being under control of Villa authorities at Saltillo. The fall of that city, however, is expected hourly. Should Saltillo fall into the hands of Carranza forces, it is said direct communication would be re-established promptly.

the first car brilliantly illuminated. The highways were deserted, however, and the farm houses which were passed were mere shadows darkened as they were by the slumber hours. There were no passersby to witness the strange and tragic procession that spread steadily along in a race with the coming of the dawn.

During all this long journey only two syllables left Frank's lips. What his thoughts were can never be known. The men who had determined that he should die left him alone with his meditations. Frank was told he was being taken to the place of execution.

The court of Georgia had sentenced you to be hanged and they never reversed that sentence. It has devolved upon us to carry out their decree."

Frank Never Flinches.
Frank did not flinch. The wonderful stoicism which had marked his long confinement in prison and with which he had met all the reverses which followed his many legal attempts for liberty did not desert him in the last hours of his life. It was well after the determination had been made to execute him to him before Frank was asked the question:

"Is there anything you would like to say before your execution?"

At first there was no reply. Then slowly and perhaps painfully the recently wounded man shook his head.

"No."

The monosyllabic answer was scarcely noticed above the throb of the racing engine.

For a long time following this the only sound was that of the plunging and surging of the engine. Frank again was permitted seclusion of his thoughts.

Then he was asked if he had killed the "hugan" again and he answered that he had not. This question was not repeated until near the journey's end and again it was asked: "Is there nothing you wish to say?"

"No."

These four questions were the sole conversation in the death car as it sped along the miles which were steadily being whittled away to Cobb county and to his death. As daylight approached the speed of the cars was increased. It was a full hour after the start that the cars drew up just below the gun house on the Wm. Frey place and stopped at the edge of an oak thicket.

Frank was told to step out. He arose with the knowledge that death was near, but he did not falter. He stepped out of the car and walked toward a tree which was soon to be his scaffold. He looked back at the car as it started and saw the four men who were with him. He walked with firm steps between two of his captors, his eyes upon the ground. The cost of the trip was progressing thus that suddenly Frank spoke.

Loved Wife and Mother.
"I love my wife and mother more than I do my life."

The words were uttered more to himself than for any dramatic effect upon his captors. Frank had been pondering that last question as to whether or not he had ought to say and this was his answer.

A few moments later the noise had been placed about the tender neck and throat, a handkerchief had been pulled over his eyes, there was a pull, a tightening of hemp rope and Frank's life was fast ebbing away.

It was half an hour after the "execution" had been completed that the "committee" that the dangling body was found, still warm.

Cotton Contraband and the Arabic Are Discussed in England

London, Aug. 22.—The questions concerning cotton being declared contraband of war and the sinking of the Arabic, a German submarine boat of the White Star Line, were discussed in the London newspapers. Although the British press was by no means unanimously demanding that cotton be declared contraband, now that the government has taken the plunge its decision meets virtually with the universal approval of those newspapers which hitherto had refrained from urging the step. These newspapers now take the view that the government with the advantage of having the best information at its disposal was in a better position to judge than the public that cotton was contraband.

The most expressive desire to know why woven cotton fabrics and textiles also were not declared contraband since it says the claim has been made that our army can employ them as efficiently substitutes for cotton in the manufacture of explosives.

The Daily Chronicle interprets the government's decision to mean that while the government will decline to enter into any vast project for buying the American cotton crop it will be prepared to make such purchases as may seem advisable to support the market and obtain a reasonable degree of protection to the American growers. It also comments at length on the sinking of the Arabic.

"The messages from America do not make the point that the United States will not make war," the newspaper says, "but we may be permitted to doubt whether any other policy will compel any respect from Germany."

The Times regards the decision of cotton contraband with the greatest satisfaction.

The newspaper adds that under the order in council cargoes of cotton can be seized by the British navy and that to reason that the liability to confiscation will have a determined effect on legitimate trade. It concludes, however, that the government's decision will improve Great Britain's position and tend to remove causes of friction with the United States.

Red Cross Opens Soup Kitchens in the City of Mexico

Mexico City, Aug. 14 (by mail to Galveston).—The American Red cross today opened up three new soup kitchens, making a total of eleven now in operation in the capital for the relief of the needy. The demand is so great, however, that Charles J. O'Connor, special representative of the Red cross society, said today that the Red cross at his command would not begin to suffice.

"The situation is so much worse than I have ever experienced that I am sometimes staggered at the task ahead," said Mr. O'Connor. "No famine conditions that I know of exist here, but the general misery is so great that only the suffering horde of British Steamers Meet Disaster.

London, Aug. 22.—The British steamers Windsor and William Dawson have met with disaster. The Windsor, a vessel of 6055 tons, has, according to a report issued here, been sunk, while the William Dawson, an old steamer of 234 tons, has been blown up. The crew of the Windsor was saved but five men of the Dawson's crew were lost.

The German battle cruiser Moltke was a vessel of 23,000 tons and carried in ordinary times a complement of 1075 men. She was a sister ship of the famous Goeben.

The Moltke was 500 feet long and was armed with ten 11-inch guns and twelve 6-inch guns and twelve 24 pounders. In addition her armament included four 20-inch torpedo tubes. She was built in 1911 and had a speed of about 23 knots.

The Moltke was in the battle with the British fleet in the North Sea last January when the German armored cruiser Bluecher was sunk. In 1913 the Moltke was in the German squadron which visited the United States to return the visit of the United States battleship squadron at Kiel during its trip around the world. The cost of the Moltke was about $12,000,000.

Germany Loses Ships.
London, Aug. 22.—A dispatch to the Central News from Petrograd says: "The president of the duma is announcing that the Germans lost the battleship Moltke, three cruisers and seven torpedo boats in the Riga battle."

The announcement of the president of the duma is sent by the correspondent follows: "In the Riga battle the Germans lost one superdreadnaught, the Moltke, three cruisers and seven torpedo boats."

The German fleet has withdrawn from Riga bay.

"The Germans tried to make a descent near Pernpin (Pernik) on the east shore of the Gulf of Riga, some 35 miles north of Riga. Four barges crammed with soldiers took part in the descent. They were repulsed by the Russian troops without the co-operation of artillery, the Germans being exterminated and the barges captured."

French Official Statement.
Paris, Aug. 22.—The official statement issued today follows: "In the Artois, north of Souchez, a tentative German attack, feebly undertaken, was easily repulsed. In the region of 'The Labyrinth' hand grenade fighting continues."

"In the region of Roye there was violent cannonading. In the Vosges the enemy attacked our positions on the crest of Sonnerach. He was completely repulsed. Upon the terrain conquered in this region on August 18 we counted 100 German bodies."

Russians Hold Railway.
London, Aug. 22.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says: "The whole line of the Grodno-Bialystok-Brest-Litovsk railway remains in the possession of the Russians but Brest-Litovsk is almost within the zone of gunfire and frequently is visited by bomb dropping aeroplanes."

"The Russian Gazette says German advance guards who appeared near Novosvitsyansky, on the Vilna-Petrograd railway, were driven back by the Russians."

Germans Leave Gulf of Riga.
Petrograd, via London, Aug. 22.—An official communication, issued today, says: "The German fleet has left the Gulf of Riga."

GOVERNOR AND EX-GOVERNOR OF GEORGIA, WHO FIGURE IN LEO M. FRANK CASE

Governor Harris has officially announced that he will leave no stone unturned to discover and punish the men who lynched Leo M. Frank. He has ordered state and local officials to proceed diligently in the matter. Ex-Governor Slaton, who denounced the affair as murder and assassination and who commuted Frank's death sentence to life imprisonment, states in Savannah today that on his return to Georgia he will aid in prosecuting the lynchers if they are apprehended.

Derelict Sighted Bottom Up by the Steamship Cushing

New Orleans, Aug. 22.—Wireless messages received here late last night from the American steamship Cushing, from Tuxpan for New Orleans, reported that at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, in latitude 25:39 north, longitude 92:45 west, the steamer sighted a derelict, bottom up. It was not ascertained whether the derelict was a barge or sailing vessel. The hulk was sighted near where the schooner Lydia M. Dering foundered earlier in the week.

TIN HATS—A POINTER FOR THE
B. I. M. I. T.

It's a long way from Texas to Maine, but William H. Whiting of Jonesport, Maine, a seacoast village
down in Washington county, has an idea that might be worth the consideration of the Buy-It-Made-In-Texas movement and we are passing the suggestion on to them for whatever it is worth.

The idea is that Mr. Whiting has a new hat—a home-made hat—and
since it is so constructed that it resists all kinds of weather he does not care if he is caught out in the rain
with his new hat on. Now Mr. Whiting is a very practical young man.
Concluding that straw was too flim-
sy, wool too hot for summer wear,
and Panama too costly, he went to his own tinshop and from the thinnest tin that he could find built for himself this novel hat.

Nor is it such a bad hat at that.
While it is made of tin, it is built upon the most acceptable 1915 models worn by the young men of wealth
and taste in Jonesport and Bangor,
and it has a dash of color in the brilliant copper band. Among its other merits are mentioned the fact that it shines gladly in the sunlight of the morning, reflects the glory of sunset
and echoes musically in the rain.
It is said that Whiting sometimes gets a little nervous for fear that lightning may strike it, but then the elements usually like a shining mark
anyhow, so what's the difference?
Some of the people of Jonesport who have more money than brains attempt to "guy" the hat, but Whiting calmly
observes that it was "Made in Jones-
port," that it is his own hat and paid
for, and that it is none of anybody else's business. And in all of these assumptions he is eminently correct.

According to dispatches from Austin, Governor Ferguson is out after the scalp of Dr. W. J. Battle, acting president of the University of Texas. According to the same story, five of the nine regents of the University are pledged to Dr. Battle to elect him regular president at an early date, and it is intimated that if these members
do not change their position and vote
otherwise that the governor will call for their resignations as he did in the case of the directors of the Southwestern Insane asylum at San Antonio.
The educational institutions of the state will suffer intensely if they are to be made a football to be kicked about at the whims of whatever political happens to occupy the governor's chair. Governor Ferguson has made an acceptable governor in many respects but it is highly improper for him to try and make the officials and
employees of every penal, eleemosynary
and educational institution in the state responsive to his wishes, especially in matters of detailed administration, and
of the three classes of institutions
mentioned, it is most desirable that the educational ones be left to do their work, free from political interference.

Hearts of the members of the Texas
Fourth Estate will go out tenderly to Miss Florea, 19-year-old daughter of the editor of the Richmond Coaster,
who is the only surviving member of the family and who, clinging to a door
of the house in which the remainder of the family were drowned, floated on it eighteen hours and was finally rescued in a state of delirium on the end of Galveston Island. Mr. Florea and his family were taking their outing
at Surfside when the house in which they were located was overturned
Monday night. Only the young woman escaped.

VALUE OF GOOD SPELLING.

No boy has ever risen to any considerable height in the world who did not, while still a boy, learn to do at least a few things exceptionally well.
And this accounts for the fact that
so many men who got their only scholastic training in the little red school house of the east or the little log school house of the south have risen to prominence in the world. They learned to read, spell, write and "figure" accurately and this principle of doing well
everything that they undertook became so fixed in their lives that it paved
the foundation for their later success
in life.

In this connection it is interesting to note that 65 years ago four country
boys, all attending rural schools in the vicinity of Oswego, Tioga county, New York, were the crack spellers of their respective schools, and frequently met in the inter-district spelling matches.
It was nip and tuck between them as
to which should hold the supremacy.
It is likely that the boys were well
up in all their studies, but they came
into competition only as to spelling,
which was the favorite method of
school contest in those days.

Those four boys were Tom Platt,
who became the late Senator Thomas
C. Platt; Ben Tracy—Gen. Benjamin
F. Tracy, noted soldier in the Civil war and member of President Benjamin Harrison's cabinet, who died recently; John Rockefeller, who is now known as John D. Rockefeller, Standard Oil magnate, and Washington Gladden, now nationally known as a preacher and writer on social subjects. It is remarkable that out of that one little country neighborhood four boys should come to be known throughout the nation, each in his own field of activity.

Of course, just learning to spell well,
in and of itself alone, would have not made successful men out of these boys, for they were boys of large nature to begin with, but that talent would doubtless have been wasted
and they would never have attained
to fame or fortune but for the fact that back there in the country school
where they were taught that excellence was to be sought in everything
they undertook they learned to excel in spelling. Much of the weakness of our modern education lies in the fact that we try to instruct in so many subjects that the pupils find it physically impossible to do all of them
well, and the teachers also find it impossible to make their instruction so thorough that the pupils will become thoroughly grounded in the subjects taught. Thorough instruction in a few of the fundamentals is eminently superior to a smattering of a large number of things.

UNION OVER MEXICO.

Our government's decision to consult with the South American countries
about the Mexican situation will give general satisfaction, observes the New York Globe. They have a common interest with us in securing and maintaining peace throughout America. It is wise for us to take them into our confidence with respect to any plan
we may have for promoting a settlement. What remains in South America of the old suspicion for our motives will hardly survive a frank discussion before action. What may follow a suggestion of co-operation can not be foretold, but only the pessimist will fail to see the allurement of such a prospect.

President Wilson from the outset
has shown a disposition to take advice
from our Southern neighbors in dealing with Mexico. No surprise need be occasioned, therefore, if in the present juncture he shall propose a program that calls for some concert. The central idea of his policy is well understood. He desires nothing but the establishment in Mexico, under constitutional sanction, of a government that shall to a reasonable extent be representative of the people. He has reason to know that the Mexicans themselves, as far as they are intelligently conscious of a purpose, seek nothing else. He knows that among the so-called constitutionalists, conventionalists, and Zapatists there are no real differences save in leadership.
It is probable that he seeks moral and
perhaps even physical support, if necessary, for a plan under which the laudable ambitions of the Mexican people can be realized, despite the obstinacy and selfish ambitions of some of their generals.

There is reason to suppose that such support, if called for, will be forthcoming. Full acceptance of it should render comparatively simple whatever interposition in Mexican affairs may seem necessary, should divest it of all grave risks, and, best of all, should set an example and establish a custom out of which might grow that American union for peace of which we have all dreamed.

hands carefully after serving each patron. There have been many more useless statutes enacted, too.

immense forests await exploitation in
the northwestern part of Paraguay,
known as the Gran Chaco, which is inhabited mostly by nomadic tribes of Indians. It is estimated that Paraguay has a population of 1,000,000.

Two old-fashioned cannons have been placed on the main building of the Santa Gertrudis ranch, near Kingsville, and they will be directed at any bunch of Mexican bandits who are seen loitering in those parts. That is a species of "Safety First" that meets
with our cordial approval.

C. W. Woodman, state commissioner of labor, warns laboring men everywhere that Houston, Galveston, Port Arthur, Texas City and other towns
in the coast region have all the help
of every character which they need
and that laboring men from other places should stay away from the storm-affected region.

While passing our bouquets to those who did a noble part during the tropical storm of last week we would not overlook the hotels of Houston, Galveston and possibly other places who admitted people by the thousands and housed and fed them at reduced prices
and without any price at all in case
the guests were unable to pay. This is rising to an emergency in a manner
very pleasing to contemplate.

Talking about German thrift, Dr.
Karl Helfferich, secretary of the German imperial treasury, has the idea all right. He says the taxes of the German people will not be raised by the war and that the thousands of millions of dollars which the war is costing the Germans will be paid by Germany's enemies who started the war,
the cost to be distributed over succeeding generations.

The Houston Post suggests that there ought to be established a kind of submarine cable connection for both telegraph and telephone lines between Galveston and the outside world so that in cases of such storms as swept
the Texas coast last week communication could be had with the world,
both to furnish the news and expedite relief. The suggestion is a good one and we would add that the connection
ought to be made with New Orleans,
Waco, or some other inland town, as Houston and other South Texas towns
were also cut off from outside communication during a good portion of the storm period last week.

REV. MR. MORRIS
PREACHES TO BOYS

PASTOR FIFTH ST. METHODIST CHURCH INTERESTS
LISTENERS.

MAKING OF BOY SUBJECT

Little Scripture and Much Common Sense Feature Address—Tells Experiences of Own Boyhood.

One hundred and fifteen boys, half of whom were members of the Working
Boys' Sunday school class, heard Rev.
John R. Morris, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist church, deliver a sermon especially for boys at the church
yesterday morning. The boys behaved beautifully throughout the sermon, which was cheerful and lively, and of the kind that a boy himself can appreciate. That Rev. Mr. Morris was once a boy himself and has not forgotten the many varied incidents, small but important,
which go to make up that wonderful
period called boyhood was well emphasized in the sermon.

"Your boys are bright," said Rev. Mr.
Morris to a leader of the working boys
after the sermon. "I had the finest attention possible. It was a treat to preach to them."

Rev. Mr. Morris said in part:
Boys, I take off my hat to you this morning because I see before me future merchants, doctors, lawyers, governors, congressmen, senators and maybe a president of the United States, for
by the time you are old enough to fill this last named office Texas will very likely have the naming of the one who shall fill it. The boys in their teens today twenty years from now will be controlling business state and national affairs.

Now if we can only get you boys made
right we shall have right governors,
judges, etc.

In order to make a boy right,
He should have plenty to eat.
He should sleep all night every night.
He should have time to play.

He should work some.

In fact he should be treated like the horse should be treated.

Up hill urge him not;

Down hill trot him not;

On good road spare him not;

In the stable forget him not.

Good Mind and Soul Necessary Also.

This kind of treatment gives us a boy's body strong and healthy which is one of the great blessings.

But a boy with a strong body and a bad mind and soul is not and cannot be a blessing to any one.

So we should look after making a boy
right in that more important part of himself.

To some who do not understand it is very strange that a two-bit dog enters into the making of a $100,000 boy.
Sometimes it's pigeons; sometimes it's fishing for cray fish in a mud hole,
sometimes it's tops, kites, ball; the odds
and ends you carry in your pockets. It takes these things and many more to make a boy right. Some folks can't see it, but it's true all the same.

The Boy—His Dog.

When I was a boy I had a dog—a yellow cur dog and his name was Jack. A regro told me to feed him on gunpowder
and sweet milk to make him fierce. And I did. And the day he licked the dog that had always licked him I felt like I was nineteen feet tall. I trod the country with the step of a conqueror
looking for dogs for Jack to lick.

You see now I had to be a fine boy
because I had such a fine dog for it seemed to me that a worthless boy and a fine dog did not fit.

You take it from me, and tell your boys, that I say that everything
they do for you to make you a boy
and self respecting and happy is the best money ever spent.

The right way to make a boy is to start him right, and then as he grows
he will get better; but if you start him
wrong he will get worse.

Boys, don't lie, don't cheat, don't use profanity, don't use vulgarity. Don't talk about things you could not talk about in the presence of your mother
and sister.

Associations Determine Character.

It is easy to take on habits; to get used to anything. Once I knew a small man—and small men are quick of movement, usually, but this small man ran a very big machine and his movements were very slow and the little fellow took on the habit or character of his machine. I knew a big man—a French Canadian—who ran a little machine. It moved like lightning and the big man
was very quick in his movements.

Now just as a big machine made the small man slow and the little machine
made the slow man quick, so will a boy
be made good or bad by what he works
at, by his company, by what he allows
or by what he makes himself do.

If good men are the fruit, good women
are the sugar. Somehow they sweeten
life for all of us.

The Boy's First Sweetheart.

Most all boys fall in love and sometimes it goes mighty hard with them,
but I am going to tell you right now how to fall in love without hurting yourselves. In order to do so I must give you my own experience.

Well, when I was fifteen or sixteen years of age, just about the time a fellow begins to feel manly and thinks
he is the personification of all wisdom,
and I did at that time sincerely wish
that the old people would get out of the way and give us young folks a chance to show what we could do—well, about this time I fell in love and it made a man of me. It was not a case of love
at first sight either, for I had known her quite a while. Afterward I wondered why I did not do it before.

Now let me tell you about her. She had one of the most beautiful complexions I ever met with. She was slender and just a little taller than I was at that time, but I did not care for that.

A Hot Argument

chine that nobody wants. But a good man a fountain of pure water who does good.

Boys, which is better, machine or fountain?

Parents' Duty to Boys.
Boys, did you ever notice a white fly?
How clean and spotless it is. It comes up out of the dirt and grit and gravel,
and grows and grows and after awhile
it opens and there is no dirt or stain
on it. Why? God had it wrapped up so well in the bulb and as it grew
that the rough soil could not injure it.
Now that's just the way in making a boy.

There he is a growing boy. On one side of him is a man who curses and the boy hears it. On another side is a man who tells dirty jokes, and the boy hears it. And then all around him are bad men, and let me say that the man who talks such in the presence of boys ought to have his miserable tongue
cut out and pickled in a fruit jar so that every boy could see it and say, "That was a cursing and filthy tongue. I'll have no such tongue." But in the midst of all this you can raise a boy and he will grow up as pure as a lily—as clean as your own mother would have you.

Those parents, boys, have to wrap up, have to tuck you in just as they would on a winter night to keep you
from getting cold.

Foul Stories Harmful.
Parents seem to forget the tucking act
when they allow their boys and girls at the most critical period of life to attend
in company with each other the suggestive vaudeville.

Boys, when you hear a man begin to tell a joke about a man and woman you leave. Remember that your mother is woman and he would not respect her
a moment if he dared do otherwise.

In making a boy we must use some honor.

Tell the truth and be true. Don't tell a falsehood. Tell clean jokes and laugh, but don't tell a lie.

Now take this: I heard of a little fellow whose parents sent him to Sunday school one morning and when he came home his mother said:

"Johnnie, I told you to go to Sunday school."

Johnnie said, "I did go."

And his mother said, "Well, how is it that your hands smell of fish?"

Johnnie said, "I've been carrying my Sunday school quarterly in my hand and the outside had a picture of Jonah and the whale."

Now, boys, that's just a joke, but everywhere you must not be too many.
Right Kind of Boy is Honorable.

Not only truthful, but true you must be. Make your word good. If you make a promise keep it.

Two or three years ago in the lobby
of the United States senate a man backed away from his promise. For a moment there was silence and then a great strong true man straightened up
and looking the other man in the eye
said, "God, Almighty, hates a quit-ter."

Well, God does not hate anybody but He surely does not look with approval
on anyone who breaks his word.

Once there was a distinguished man
in the United States, a man who had been wounded in the battle of Saratoga.
He turned traitor for $30,000 and tried to betray his country into the hands of the British. His name was Benedict Arnold.

Now at West Point, the place he attempted to betray, there are numerous tablets which contain the names of the various patriots of our country. But the one reserved for Benedict Arnold has no name on it—just a blank. Think of it.

When this traitor was dying in a foreign land he was asked what he wanted
and his answer was, "Only a friend."

He said to an American, "What would your countrymen do to me in case I should return to the United States?"

The American said, "Sir, they would give you the lib which was awarded to Saratoga military honors, but they would hang the rest of your body on the gallows."

Boys, you cannot and you must not try to sell honor for money.

Good Men Needed Influence.

Not only do we need some dog, some pigeon, some cray fish, some ball and some marbles and tops to make a boy,
but we also need some good men.

A boy is like a fruit cake. Before you make it right you must have the ingredients—especially lots of fruit and sugar. And good men are the fruit. I like to have them about when I am making a boy. In my home at my table.
Their manners, their talk, their gentility. It all helps.

I could not mind using a hundred
good men to make one boy. If you boys
want to know anything, go to a good man about it, and if he is a good man,
he will take time to talk to you, and
never was time better spent.

Well, how about the sugar in the cake?
What is the sugar in the fruit cake
we call "boy?"

Now, boys, it does not matter how attentively you have listened up to this time, be all ears now.

If good men are the fruit, good women
are the sugar. Somehow they sweeten
life for all of us.

KEIFFER PEARS
75c Per Bushel

TODAY and TOMORROW

You can buy them at this price by driving over to the orchard for them, but as we only have about 400 bushels, you had better come early or you might find them all sold. You know that the Keiffer Pear makes the most delicious preserves and no housekeeper's pantry is complete without a supply of pear
preserves—then how good they taste and how often they help out a meal, especially when an unexpected guest drops in.

At 40c Per Bushel

These are pears that were blown off the trees during the storm and are specked or bruised, but are good for cooking or preserving. The supply of both kinds is limited, so you had better drive over early today and get yours.

NOTHING DONE ABOUT NAVS AND PANTHERS BIG CROWD SEES THE REMAINING SCHEDULE DIVIDE DOUBLE BILL

PRESIDENT DAVIDSON RECEIVES SEVERAL SUGGESTIONS BUT NO ACTION TAKEN.

BEAUMONT MAY HAVE TO GO OGLE WOBBLES AND LOSES

If Oilers Are Dropped it Still May be Necessary to Make New Schedule to Sept. 6.

Just what is to happen to the Texas league is still a matter of conjecture. President W. R. Davidson wired the various franchise owners Saturday night asking them to give suggestions as to what should be done in view of Owner Dolson's action in paying off members of the Galveston club and letting them go.

Several suggestions were made, one which comes from Houston but which is attributed to Owner Dolson, bearing all the earmarks of a Doak Roberts plan. While the suggestion was contained in a telegram from Mr. Dolson to Mr. Davidson, the Houston magnate says it was suggested by Mr. Dolson. It is that an "all star" club, made up of picked men from the clubs remaining in the league, the salaries to be paid by the clubs "lending" them, play out the remainder of Galveston's schedule. The season ends September 6.

The scheme met instant disfavor from the Waco management, also from Fort Worth. Neither did Joe Gardner want all into the plan, therefore it goes where wild plans belong.

While nothing official has been given out—for nothing definite has been done—the final plan probably will be to drop Beaumont, the Houston and San Antonio clubs playing out their games with each other, and finish. The North Texas clubs would not be affected by this arrangement. Of course there may be a complete revision of the schedule, for San Antonio still has an idea that it has a chance for the flag, and wants to play enough games to get an even break with the other clubs, which is a natural desire.

When Secretary Farrell of the national commission was advised of conditions in South Texas as result of the storm he acted quickly—too quickly, it has proven—and gave the Galveston, Beaumont and Houston clubs permission to pay off their men and let them go, retaining their franchises for next season. This was done as a special dispensation.

Houston and Beaumont found that conditions were not so bad with them as was at first feared. Beaumont, in fact, playing a double header the day after the storm on their home grounds. Houston transferred its games with San Antonio to San Antonio and will be ready to play in a few days. But with Galveston it was different. It was a case of lose anyway and Dolson adopted the plan that would entail the least loss of money. He had been given permission to pay off his men and break camp. He did. He still has the franchise and salaries are stopped. He acted quickly, and after it was done there was no remedy but to let it go at that.

The league had offered to take over the club and play it as a road team, allowing Galveston to take it over next year provided all loss that was sustained by the league this season be paid by the Galveston management. This it is estimated would be about $1500. Dolson wisely, so far as his own pocketbook was concerned, got from under this risk by accepting Farrell's proffered plan.

It is now up to the other seven clubs to do the best they can, and one must go.

SKIPPERS DELIVER THEIR PUNCH TWICE, BUT IS EFFECTIVE ONLY IN FIRST GAME.

Schoolmaster Unable to Keep Visitors From Hitting in the Second Game.

Although the Navigators delivered their famed punch in each game of the double bill at Katy park yesterday it counted only once—in the first game when the locals won 7 to 4. It came in the eighth inning after things looked hopeless, with the score 4 to 1 and Redford on the firing line for the Panthers, going like a house on fire.

In the second, which went seven innings by agreement, the bunch had too much to overcome, through the wobbling of Ogle and a gallant rally in the sixth, which netted four runs went for naught. Pentress won that affair 6 to 4.

But the great eighth inning rally was worth even the loss of the second game. Coming as it did without warning, and when there was no reason to suppose Redford would weaken, it was an ideal finish, from the local viewpoint.

Hille, whose hitting ordinarily is nothing to brag about, started the thing off in the very first inning of the first game. He was the second man up and he caught one of Donalds' deliveries just right and it went soaring well over the left field fence. Waco got the run back in its second but the pesky Panthers put themselves one to the good again in the third on a hit, a fielder's choice by Tanner which failed to get Stow at third and Harpers single. Eddie was hit again in the eighth for two more runs, giving Fort Worth 4, Waco 1.

Then came that eighth for Waco, and Malmquist batted for Donalds, and walked. Tanner was hit by a pitched ball. Coyle singled to center field. Crichlow singled through second, scoring Malmquist and Tanner. Redford gave way to Kerr and James sacrificed and was safe when Hille threw badly to first. Walters batted for Reilly and sent a hot one to Hunter, which the first baseman knocked down and put the runner out, but Coyle scored. Conwell hit one to Stow who threw Crichlow out at the plate. Wohleben drove a double, scoring Malmquist and Tanner.

The second game was a heart breaking affair. For the second time this season Waco got to Pentress hard and heavy. Had Ogle been right and held the visitors to fewer scores, the game would have been a repetition of the first. But Professor was hammered continually. He was never free from trouble. In the second Hunter singled. Atz sacrificed. Lee doubled to right field, scoring Hunter. Pentress pitched a ball over the left field fence, scoring two ahead of him. Result three runs on three hits.

Waco, a sacrifice and a squeeze made another in the fourth. Two runs and a sacrifice made another in the fifth. A triple and a sacrifice scored the last in the sixth. In the sixth, Tanner led off with a clean two bagger to right, advancing on Coyle's out. Atz to the bases. Crichlow singled and scored. Pentress pitched a ball over the left field fence, scoring two ahead of him. Result three runs on three hits.

TIGER AND WASHINGTON CLUBS SPLIT IN A DOUBLE-HEADER.

Johnson Stops Jennings' Bunch After They Had Won Nine Straight.

Detroit, Aug. 22.—Before one of the largest crowds that ever watched a ball game on Navin field, Detroit and Washington split a double header. Johnson held the Tigers to three hits in the first game and Washington won. Daus pitched brilliantly in the second contest which Detroit captured, and which was in doubt until Young's brilliant double play in the ninth cleared the bases. Detroit had won nine straight games before stopped by Johnson. The scores:

Hayes Bests Fan Who Insists on Fighting

Shreveport, Aug. 22.—Singles by Murphy, Smith and Schraeder in the twelfth inning gave Shreveport a brilliant pitching argument between McLeod and Brady today 2 to 1. PHILLIES AND BOSTON HOLD TO TOP BERTHS

BROOKLYN CLIMBS INTO STRIKING PLACE DURING WEEK BUT DROPS BACK.

Braves and Cincinnati Reds Each Win Same Number During the Seven Days.

PHILADELPHIA IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE CONTINUE TO HOLD THEIR GROUND.

Philadelphia, Aug. 22.—Philadelphia continued to hold their grip on first place. Brooklyn, for two days within two points of Philadelphia, fell back Saturday by breaking even with Cincinnati while Pat Moran's men were winning two games from the Cubs. Nothing in the work of the Quakers and the Robins for the week supports a claim of superiority for one over the other. Their pennant chances seem equal so far as playing ability is concerned but the Phillies have the edge in the position of pitching.

THE LOSSES OF THE NEW YORKS WERE TWICE THE NUMBER OF THEIR VICTORIES.

MERCHANTS ASKED TO OBSERVE HARDY DAY

Y. M. B. L. TEAMS WILL BEGIN CANVASS FOLLOWING LUNCHEON TOMORROW.

AUTO PARADE IS PLANNED

Navigators Will Receive All Receipts of Game Friday—Large Attendance Expected.

In the attempt to induce every business house in the city not already affected by the Friday closing arrangement to agree to close their doors at 4 o'clock next Friday afternoon in honor of Hardy day and in order that their employees may attend the game at Katy park that afternoon, ten teams of the Young Men's Business League will canvass the city tomorrow afternoon.

The teams, which were named yesterday by President J. J. Hutchison after a conference with Charles E. Link, chairman of the Hardy day committee of the league, will meet at the Y. M. B. L. rooms at 12:15 tomorrow. Luncheon will be served and the team captains will receive their final instructions. Each team will be assigned a territory to cover, and an effort will be made to get every business house in the city to sign the agreement to close before the teams quit work.

Receipts of the game Friday will be divided among the players of the Waco club.

The proposal to have a monster automobile and carrying parade through the streets just before the game will be discussed at the meeting tomorrow. The plan now under consideration is to have the Waco and Shreveport players lead the parade, seated in automobiles.

The teams which will work under the direction of the central Hardy day committee, composed of C. F. Link, chairman, W. V. Crawford, W. A. Holt, A. G. Steele and President Hutchison, are as follows:

Team No. 1—Langdon Luedde, captain; Will Tracy, John T. Bonner.
Team No. 2—L. P. Baine, captain; S. S. Fleming, A. Loving.

Team No. 9—W. J. Geisler, captain; E. S. Street, G. B. Rogers.
Team No. 10—J. C. Kilgore, captain; G. N. Dehough, Lewis Hart.

George V. Rotan Will Play in Detroit Golf Tournament

George V. Rotan, state golf champion, has gone to Detroit to enter in the national amateur championship to be played there. The tournament will begin Saturday. Mr. Rotan left in time to play over the course several times and become accustomed to the conditions, and also, he will have time to get over the effects of the long trip. Among the prominent players who are entered in the tournament are Francis Oumet, amateur champion; Travers and other. Rotan, a San Antonio who played Rotan a good game in the finals of the recent invitation here, also is entered with many other Texas players.

Dexter to Detroit.
Dallas, Aug. 22—Charles L. Dexter, Jr., Southern golf champion; J. S. Kendall, George N. Aldredge and L. R. Munser will leave next Tuesday for Detroit, where they will participate in the national amateur championship tournament. Louis Jacoby, a member of the Dallas Country club, who recently moved to Pittsburg, will also attend the Detroit tourney as a representative of the local club. Dexter is in fine form and will give a good account of himself among the stars of the nation, in the opinion of Sandy Baxter, the Dallas Country club professional. He made the round yesterday in 74, which is but two strokes above the course record.

Torbett Coryell Chairman.
Gainesville, Aug. 22—Pursuant to a call made by the democratic executive of the county met here yesterday evening to elect a county chairman to fill out the unexpired term of W. A. Smith, who was appointed postmaster here and had resigned. J. S. Torbett was elected.

COOPER WILL HELP POOR OF WACO

SECRETARY RECEIVES INSTRUCTIONS TO INVESTIGATE CONDITIONS HERE.

Tanlac Being Received With Favor by Waco Residents and Cooper Pleased.

When seen at the Higgins hotel yesterday, Mr. H. E. Garrett, Cooper's secretary, who is directing the distribution of Tanlac in Waco, made the following statement:

"I have just received instructions from Mr. Cooper to thoroughly investigate conditions here with a view of advising him what charity act he may best engage in, in some direct way, to help the poor of this city.

"Mr. Cooper is a very wealthy man and gives to the poor of the cities in which Tanlac is exploited a large percentage of the results of the sales of his new medicine. He is now contributing to a great many charitable institutions, but is ever looking for new opportunities to carry out some new direct charity work.

"That Mr. Cooper will help the poor of Waco is now a certainty and it is just a question of what sort of work he will instruct me to engage in here.

"Judging from the sales of Tanlac that W. B. Morrison's drug company have already had, the new medicine is being received in Waco and hundreds of people from all other cities are inquiring about the new medicine. The class of people who are buying Tanlac are the best in the city, people who are able to judge impartially and people whose statements carry weight with them.

"The demand for Tanlac here is really surprising and it is astonishing to find out how many people here had heard of the Premier Preparation. Tanlac, and the great work that it is doing in other sections."

Tanlac will continue to be explained at Morrison's Old Corner drug store.

CROWDS ATTEND ROOF GARDEN'S NIGHT CONCERT

The spacious Casino roof garden was not large enough to accommodate the augmented crowd attracted by the announcement that Miss Lola Little, one of Waco's most talented young ladies, would sing. Every seat on the roof was filled and all standing room taken up. A large number could not find place on the roof.

Miss Little's solo, "A Perfect Duty," was appreciatively applauded. A response to an encore with "Just A Weeping For You" which also greatly pleased the audience.

The Casino orchestra of seven pieces, which has grown to be one of the most popular musical organizations in the city, played an encore in addition to Miss Little's vocal numbers. The feature of the orchestra program was a drum solo.

Following was the program:
March Fidelity Losey
The Purple Road (excerpts) Reinhart
The Yankee Prince (selection) Cohan
My Tango Queen (From Hitchcock's Beauty Shop) Gebst
Norman Overture Bellini
Oh, You Drummer! (solo from Drum) Hill
The Grand Slam Overture (Whitmark popular medley) Lake
A Perfect Day, vocal solo (Miss Little) Little

Mr. Nagelvoort's visit to Waco was made for the purpose of conferring with Mr. Powers with regard to company business. It was his first visit to Waco and Central Texas.

Christian Endeavor Has Good Program

John L. McLaran directed an interesting program at the meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of the Second Presbyterian church last night. M. H. McRobert of the Y. M. C. A. made a splendid talk, and a piano solo was rendered by Miss Gertrude Apperson. A number of visiting Endeavorers from other churches were present. The topic for the meeting August 29 as announced last night is "Fervority," from the text in Ecclesiastes 2:1-13. Miss Annie Mae Word is the leader. All members are urged to come and take part in the discussion. Endeavorers of other churches are invited.

All Endeavorers are urged to meet at the Central Christian church at 3:45 next Sunday afternoon to go in a body to the county jail, where a service will be conducted.

WALSH COMMISSION MAKES 3 REPORTS

MEMBERS DISAGREE ON EVERY STATEMENT AND ARE MADE SEPARATELY.

CAUSE OF INDUSTRIAL UNREST

Reasons for Unemployment and Other Evils Brought Out by Labor Representatives.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Summaries of the reports, three in number, of the United States commission on industrial relations, as to findings and recommendations for the information of congress, were made public here tonight.

The commission, which ceases to exist tomorrow, was composed of three representatives each of the employers, the employed, and the general public. It became apparent some time ago that they would be unable to agree on a single report, and it is said that none of the reports given out tonight can properly be called a "majority" report.

The personnel of the commission follows: Frank P. Walsh, Missouri, chairman; John R. Commons, Wisconsin; and Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, representing the public. H. Ashton, Illinois; Harila Weinstein, California; and S. Thurston Ballard, Illinois; James O'Connell, District of Columbia; and A. B. Garretson, Iowa, representing the employed.

The report of the representatives of the employers, known as the "staff" report, drawn up by Basil M. Manly, director of research and investigation for the commission, was signed by Commissioners Walsh, Landon, O'Connell, and Garretson. In connection with the main reports these commissioners issued three "supplemental" opinions and suggestions as follows: One by Mr. Walsh, one by Mr. Garretson and one by Mr. Landon and Mr. O'Connell jointly.

The report of the commissioners representing the public, and the summary thereof, were written by Commissioner Commons. He and Mrs. Harriman signed it without reservation. Commissioners Ashton, Ballard and Weinstein approved it in large part and to the Hon. May report are expressed in part their dissent to portions of it, in the so-called Weinstein report, signed by Weinstein, Ashton and Ballard.

The reports are identified as the Manly or staff report; the Commons, or report of the commissioners for the public; and the Weinstein report, which among other things expressed dissent from the findings of the other two reports.

The Manly summary finds "that the causes of industrial unrest group themselves almost without exception under four main processes which include all the others. They are:

1. Unjust distribution of wealth and income.
2. Unemployment and denial of opportunity to earn a living.
3. Denial of the right of free expression of opinion in the creation, in the adjudication and in the administration of the law.

4. Denial of the right and opportunity of violence against non-union workers. Remedies are suggested.

On the same subject the Commons report says:

"The greatest cause of industrial unrest is the breakdown of the labor laws and the district of our municipal, state and national governments on the part of a large portion of our people." The report outlines a plan of remedying conditions through the institution of a permanent industrial commission and advisory council with comprehensive powers.

The Weinstein report dissents from the recommendation that the secondary boycott should be legalized, finds that breaking restriction of output, prohibition of the use of non-union made tools and materials, closed shop, contests for supremacy between rival unions, and of violence against non-union workers and the properties of employers, and apprenticeship rules.

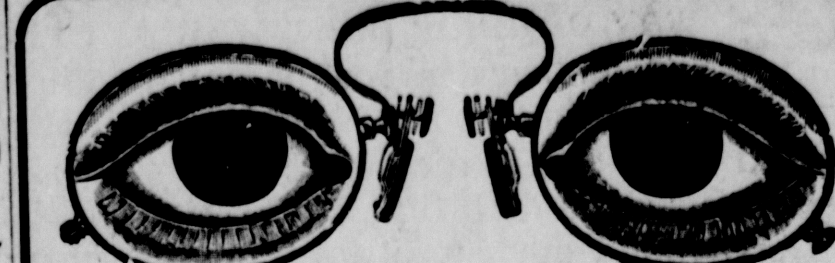

Owing to its length it was impossible for the printers to provide the full summary of the Manly report. This latter report consists of three sections, of the first of which was given out today. The second section will be made public on August 24, and the third section for publication on August 25.

The full text of the three reports which contain an aggregate of more than 200,000 words, is in the hands of the public and probably will not be available to the public for several days. For this reason summaries were prepared for publication. That the Manly report was epitomized by George P. West, director of publicity for the commission; that of the employers by Mr. Commons.

The "supplemental" opinions and suggestions of Commissioners Garretson and Ballard were made public today, while those of Walsh, O'Connell and Landon are expected to be given out at a later date.

The commission conducted hearings during 154 days, and heard 74 witnesses. Of the latter 229 were affiliated with the employers; 245 with labor and 265 were not affiliated with either group.

In addition to the reports of the field agents and investigators of the commission, there was a difference of opinion in the commission as to the value of the work of the field agents. The Manly report accepts the reports of these investigators as impartial and the Manly summary explains that "where interests are affected, statements of facts are based entirely on the testimony of those witnesses whose interests might be regarded as adversely affected."

The Commons summary says on this subject:

"In giving reasons for disregarding the reports of investigators for the commission, the report says that its members do not consider that the investigations were complete as they were not submitted to all parties at interest to be checked up as to facts."

The Weinstein summary says concerning the work of the field agents: "We find that the alleged findings of fact and in a general way the conclusions drawn thereon in the report of the staff of this commission, under the direction of Mr. Basil M. Manly, which has been made a part of the records of this commission, without the endorsement, however, of the commission, so manifestly partisan and unfair that we cannot give them our endorsement."

In addition to the three main reports and the individual opinions and suggestions, the commission, according to an announcement by Mr. West, will make public on August 27 a report on the Colorado strike, and a few days later a report on the situation of the Structural Iron Workers.

Helps to Keep Women Young

The things in a woman's life that are monotonous, that take so much time and effort in their accomplishment, that must be done day after day, are the things that put the marks of age into her face.

So, because the Sellers Kitchen Cabinet relieves the monotony and effort in kitchen work, we say it is one of the things that help to keep women young. And it is.
